Anti Nihilism

People are illogical, unreasonable, and self-centered. Love them anyway. If you do good, people will accuse you of selfish ulterior motives. Do good anyway. If you are successful, you will win false friends and true enemies. Succeed anyway. The good you do today will be forgotten tomorrow. Do good ...

Nihilism (/ ˈ n ɪ (h) ɪ l ɪ z ə m, ˈ n iː-; from Latin nihil, meaning 'nothing') is the philosophical viewpoint that suggests the denial or lack of belief toward the reputedly meaningful aspects of life. Most commonly, nihilism is presented in the form of existential nihilism, which argues that life is without objective meaning, purpose, or intrinsic value.

Nihilism - Wikipedia

Existential nihilism is the philosophical theory that life has no intrinsic meaning or value. With respect to the universe, existential nihilism suggests that a single human or even the entire human species is insignificant, without purpose and unlikely to change in the totality of existence.

Excellent and well-thought-through piece, Mike. Reading it, I got the sense that perhaps Gray's perceived nihilism and pessimism came through looking for meaning in politics and finding none time and time again, no solid, stable inviolable ideology on which to lay his weary head and heart to permanent unassailable rest.

All people are shit - including my friends, my parents, myself. Blinded to the truth, messed up in the head, people trudge day by day towards their deaths, for the most part never being pleased, despite the signs, with what they were. Chronically ego-deprived, we resist and inhibit ourselves, constantly externalizing this inner inability to act in the form of "anti-establishment" sentiment.
